CASE STUDY

Don Carolis improves accuracy of labor costs and production yields with Infor SyteLine

About the company

Since its founding in 1860, H. Don Carolis & Sons has crafted furniture with a singular, unwavering commitment to excellence and value. As the oldest furniture manufacturer in Sri Lanka, Don Carolis combined traditional methods and commitment to craftsmanship with advanced technology and modern equipment. When the company sought to digitalize many of its business processes with Infor® SyteLine, Don Carolis turned to Kingslake, an Associate Channel Partner of Infor. For 25+ years, Kingslake has delivered state-of-the-art solutions built with a mix of modern enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems, specialized software solutions, and experienced dynamic consultants. Kingslake delivers highly flexible solutions and functionality that are essential for remaining competitive in a technologically driven industry.

Requirements

- Determine precise labor costs for more accurate labor payments
- Accurately reconcile production yields
- Deploy an integrated ERP solution that can define operations with machine and labor details

Benefits

- Improved accuracy of labor payments for production incentives using the SyteLine Production and Finance module
- Reconciled production yields by tracking log values against plank values via the SyteLine Log module
- Implemented an ERP solution that successfully integrates stores/inventory, customer, vendor, production, and finance operations

“ Infor SyteLine enabled us to enhance the productivity of our business, allowing us to track each and every detail of our operation.”
